

Create an exhibition

Context

Exhibitions are multimodal ensembles. We create meaning in them through our interpretation of various modes and media. In this project you will create your own exhibition.

Requirement

Prepare a 2 minute multimodal presentation that relays a key message about your research. This project should be approached as a mini exhibition. How will you use a range of modes and media to present your research as a coherent ensemble? This will require you to construct meaning through a curation of the potentials contained in different modes and media.

Technical aspects

- Relay a key memorable message about your research. The spoken element is short, so how do you leverage what you say with what other aspects of audience experience.
- Create a coherent ensemble that employs a range of modes and media. You could employ sketches, photographs, video, sketch models, scale models, sections, elevations, maps, found artifacts, short narrative descriptions of the site etc. You may employ posters, but you cannot only rely on posters. Do not use a PowerPoint/Sway/Prezi for this assignment.
- Be strategic in what you present, and what you do not present.

Assessment

The presentation is marked according to the principles of Ethos, Logos, Patios, and Kairos.
